

Oak Spring Garden Library

The original drawings prepared for
"Drury's Illustrations of Insects" drawn on vellum by Moses Harris the Artist

Moses Harris was a celebrated London <sup>copper-plate</sup> engraver, born about 1734.

He illustrated Drury's Illustrations of Natural History, and other works.

His own works are,

- 1) The Aurelian, which is supposed to have been issued in parts; and of which there are several editions, from 1766 to 1794 in English and French, also a later one (1841) by Westwood (<sup>new</sup> ~~obsolete~~).
- 2) An Essay preceding a Supplement to the Aurelian (1767)
- (3) The English Lepidoptera, & the Aurelian's
Pocket Companion. 1775 (also 1765 and 1786)
- (4) An Exposition of English Insects
(3 editions, 1776-1782) <sup>a book still of some</sup> ~~scientific importance~~

See Hagen, Entomologist's Weekly Intelligence X.
pp. 181-183 (Sept. 7, 1861); Bibliotheca Entomologica
vol. 1 (pp. 341-342)

Eliza W. W. W.

N. I.

M<sup>r</sup> Harris pinx. May. 4. 1776

Mr. Harris pinx.

Mr. H. J. J. J. J.

Mo. Harris pina.

21. Haris var. aur 1775

Libellula pinki

M<sup>r</sup> Harris, pinx

